

THE NOTES WINDOW

The Notes Window is a small word processor. It allows you to copy information from Materia Medica Window, edit it and add comments.

You can change the font, style or size of the text by using the Edit Menu. You can then print it or export it to a more functional word processor for fine tuning. To export the Notes, choose "Select All" from the Edit Menu, switch to your processor, and paste.

Some word processors, such as Microsoft Word, and most drawing programs support the fonts and styles used by ReferenceWorks. If your word processor doesn't, you will see the text but none of the formatting.

If you drag a reference from the References window into the Notes Windows the whole sentences will be copied with the remedy, section and book information.

By typing the book, remedy and section before the copied material from the book, you can create a tiny materia medica of hypoglycemia
